

There are times when you can only trust the best welding gases.

It doesn't have to be a jet engine.

Whether you're welding a telecoms satellite or a child's swing, you need the same sort of gas – the best.

That's why so many leading companies choose
Air Products.

Our new range of gases delivers higher productivity, fewer rejects and – you'll be reassured to know – an improved working environment.

So whenever the weld is critical to you and your customers, you can have supreme confidence in Air Products.
