

Jan Viduna is
a magician.
He made glass
change colour
overnight.

That's what his customer – a major Czech glass producer – thinks. Because Jan, one of Air Products' global glass experts, helped them fulfill a vital order for a new client.

They couldn't get the furnace sufficiently hot to make a special green bottle. Production had stopped completely and the deadline was moving ever closer.

Jan and his team were called in and realised that a new oxy-fuel burner was needed. They worked the weekend to install one and ensured the order was delivered as promised.

It's this clarity of thinking that sets Air Products' 18,000 dedicated people apart, in over 30 countries worldwide. As the only combined gases and chemicals company, we care passionately about the relationships we build. Put simply, we do whatever it takes to help customers succeed.

Find out more on our website. And let us work our magic for you.

tell me more

www.airproducts.com/magic